SPIKE'S SPUTTERING

CPYRGHT

In a paper released by Dan Smoot, who worked as an FBI agent on Communist investigations, it is revealed that on Feb. 4th, 1964 Yuri Nossenko, a high ranking Soviet secret police official attending the Geneva conference, with the Soviet delegation, disappeared and six days later, it was announced that he had defected and was granted asylum in the U. S. He is in the custody of the Central Intelligence Agency and the State Department, where he is said to have given information about Soviet agents INSIDE THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT!

He revealed that some employee of the U. S. French, and British diplomatic and intelligence agencies are members of five Soviet spy rings operating in the Western hemisphere and that certain American businessmen, newspapermen, scientists, and others are undercover Communist spies. Nossenko has named names and given details. One of the rings is said to operate in a very sensitive agency of the U. S. government. Investigating committees of Congress have not been permitted to question Nossenko; nor apparently has the Johnson administration done anything about the information given.

To date the most important result of the Nossenko case is that it helped to uncover an affair which the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations had concealed from Congress and the public for almost four years, an affair centering around a man who for his own protection uses the pseudonym "Lieutenant Colonel Michael Golenieswki." We'll tell you about this next week.
